Appendix 2: Survey Questions

Dec 2018 - March 2019

The Victorian Government in partnership with Traditional Owners is embarking on a major program to reform our forest management and guide the modernisation of the Victorian Regional Forest Agreements.

Victoria’s public forests are valuable in their own right and are important to the community. The connection that Victoria’s Traditional Owners and Aboriginal communities’ have with Country is core to their culture and wellbeing. Forests provide Victorian communities with a broad range of uses and values that include clean water and air, grand old trees, biodiversity conservation, recreation and connection with nature, and jobs and economic opportunities.

We need to manage our forests for the multiple values they provide so future generations can enjoy and use forests as we do today. The community is key to shaping the future management and use of our forests because public forests are for the community.

You are invited to answer this survey to provide your views on how forest management can be improved, and what you would like from forests into the future.

Map Question. Tell us what you love about our forests and why.

Click 'Add Marker' and drag and drop a pin showing us the forest(s) you use, enjoy or care about; then tag a category and tell us why it's so important to you: biodiversity, natural environment, cultural activity, recreation, economic benefit or the natural resources our forests produce. You can drop more than one pin.
